MA in Human Rights Studies

LUND UNIVERSITY, SWEDEN

- Master of Arts in Human Rights Studies
- 2 years, full-time, 120 ECTS credits
- Department of History, Division of Human Rights Studies
- Lund Campus
- Application deadline: January 2021
- Programme start: August 2021

Programme overview

The Master's programme in the interdisciplinary field of human rights, with a profile within the humanities, combines historical, philosophical, political and legal perspectives on the complex phenomenon that human rights represent in our world. Our teaching faculty reflects the academic width of the Master's programme. We are committed to the view that human rights need to be regarded and studied not only as ethical principles or ground for law and policy, but also as part of the infrastructure of a democratic society. Students have the opportunity to complete an internship, field work, or study abroad as part of their studies.

Special features of this programme:

- A research-oriented programme for students interested in gaining interdisciplinary skills relevant for political and cultural challenges of our time.
- An interactive teaching style with close connections to ongoing research.
- The LUX Humanities Centre, where our department is housed, offers a vibrant environment with library, café and reading rooms.

Programme modules/courses

COMPULSORY COURSES AND NUMBER OF CREDITS: Semester 1: Human Rights in the Global World: Agents, Indicators and Institutions (15), Human Rights in the History of Politics and Philosophy (15), Semester 2: Human Rights in Practice: Research Methods, Research Ethics and Project Management (15), Semester 3: Field course (30), Semester 4: Master's thesis (30).

ELECTIVE COURSES: Thematic Specialisation within the field of Human Rights (15), Within the Field course students choose to do an internship or fieldwork or study courses in a relevant field abroad (30).

Career prospects

The programme prepares you for a future in research or for human rights work in the public, non-profit, or private sector. This is a newly launched programme, which, as yet, has no graduates. The experience from our Bachelor's programme in Human Rights Studies is that analytical and practical skills in the human rights field are highly and increasingly sought after. Former students work at NGOs, think-tanks, embassies and in the public sector, doing consultancy, communication and research and development.

Entry requirements and how to apply

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

A Bachelor's degree with a major in human rights or other relevant major in the humanities, social sciences, law, or the equivalent. Applicants with a degree in another subject than Human Rights Studies need to show sufficient knowledge in the field through specialisation, courses, or thesis. English Level 6 (equivalent to IELTS 6.5, TOEFL 90). Please see www.lunduniversity.lu.se for details on English proficiency levels.

HOW TO APPLY

About Lund University

Lund University was founded in 1666 and is repeatedly ranked among the world's top 100 universities. The University has 40 000 students and more than 8 000 staff based in Lund, Helsingborg and Malmö. We are united in our efforts to understand, explain and improve our world and the human condition.

Lund is the most popular study location in Sweden. The University offers one of the broadest ranges of degree programmes and courses in Scandinavia, based on cross-disciplinary and cutting-edge research. Because of its wide disciplinary range, interdisciplinary collaborations and engagement with wider society, Lund University is particularly well equipped to meet complex societal challenges. With partner universities in around 70 countries, the University's profile is distinctly international.

Lund University has an annual turnover of more than EUR 830 million, of which two-thirds go to research in our nine faculties, enabling us to offer one of the strongest and broadest ranges of research in Scandinavia.

The establishment of the world-leading facilities MAX IV and ESS will have a major impact on future scientific and industrial development in both materials science and life science. MAX IV is the leading synchrotron radiation facility in the world, while the European research facility ESS will be the world's most powerful neutron source when it opens for research in 2023. Adjacent to these facilities, Science Village Scandinavia is also being developed into a meeting place and testing environment for research, education and entrepreneurship.
