Programme overview

The Master's Programme in Service Management is a unique opportunity for those seeking a management programme at an advanced level with a strong link to research. The programme combines in-depth subject knowledge of the services sectors with an understanding of the specific organisational and managerial needs of service activities.

When applying to the Master's Programme in Service Management, you choose one of five specialisations: Culture and Creativity Management, Retail, Supply Chain Management, Sustainable Service Management or Tourism. We have a mix of students from all around the world.

Features of the programme:

The rapid development in supply chain management, including global challenges and new ways of organising supply chains and conducting business, require more qualified staff. You will study and analyse phenomena and situations such as service management in supply chain management contexts, transports and logistics management, organisational theory, theory of science as well as qualitative and quantitative methods.

Programme modules/courses

COURSES AND NUMBER OF CREDITS: Semester 1: Introduction to Service Management (7.5 credits), Introduction to Supply Chain Management (7.5 credits), Managing Service Organisations (7.5 credits), Theory of Social Science (7.5 credits). Semester 2: Methods in Social Sciences (15 credits), Service Logistics (7.5 credits), Sustainable Logistics (7,5 credits). Semester 3: Elective courses (15 credits), Intermodality and Traceability in Transport Systems (15 credits). Semester 4: Master's Thesis (30 credits).

Career prospects

Graduates from this programme will work as project leaders, senior managers as well as consultants and analysts in different organisations, including hospitals and municipal organisations. You are also qualified to perform research projects across a wide spectrum of logistic and supply chain companies and organisations.

“The best thing about the Service Management programme is that the courses are taught by many different professors coming from different backgrounds and mindsets. This really encourages you to think critically and challenge the status quo. I really like the teaching style at Lund University. You have a lot of freedom in the classroom to investigate further what interests you.”

About the Department of Service Management and Service Studies

The Department of Service Management and Service Studies is geographically situated in the city of Helsingborg. We are a successful, interdisciplinary department known for its high-quality education, research and collaboration. We generate new knowledge with new perspectives on services and their impact on organisations and businesses of today. Our students are trained to manage and run companies drawing on their understanding of service management and its applications within retail, tourism, supply chain management, culture and creativity, or sustainability.

Our research is diverse and multidisciplinary. We have both a micro perspective in research at an agent level and a structural perspective in which research takes a broader view, from infrastructure to environmental impact.
