LUND UNIVERSITY | SWEDEN

- Master of Music in Performance
- 2 years, full-time, 120 ECTS credits
- The Malmö Academy of Music
- Malmö campus
- Application deadline: January 2022
- Programme start: August 2022

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The Master's Programme in Music has specialisations in Composition, Guitar, Harpsichord, Jazz Improvisation, Piano, Recorder, Symphony Orchestra Instrument, and Vocal Studies.

The Malmö Academy of Music offers advanced professional first and second cycle programmes for prospective singers, musicians, composers and church musicians to prepare you for work in orchestras and ensembles and for the growing freelance market.

Studies in one of the performance programmes at the Malmö Academy of Music will prepare you for future professional musicianship as a soloist and/or ensemble and orchestra musician. During the period of study, you will develop the knowledge and skills you need in order to work at a high artistic level in a changing and dynamic cultural life in all its forms. We offer education with considerable opportunities to realise your own goals and in parallel build up a strong professional identity that will endure throughout your life as a musician. All our programmes are solid, high-quality professional programmes and the teaching is conducted by a professional and committed team of tutors with in-depth knowledge of the skills and abilities required for active musicianship.

ABOUT MALMÖ ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The Malmö Academy of Music has developed an international study environment. Since 1990, our efforts at organised internationalisation have firmly established the Academy's reputation with foreign contacts stretching far beyond Scandinavia and Europe. We have over 60 institutional agreements in Europe (Erasmus, Nordplus), as well as access to Lund University's comprehensive contracts with universities that span the globe. Both students and teachers may apply to exchange

“The Malmö Academy of Music has a fine tradition in bassoon education, mostly because of its prominent teachers who are great musicians – working in professional Swedish orchestras – as well as teachers and people, which makes Malmö a great environment for reaching my goals. There are lots of opportunities at the Academy of Music to participate in symphony orchestra projects as well as numerous chamber music projects.”

Montserrat Aguirre Toledo from Spain, specialisation in bassoon programmes that will give them new experiences and broaden their educational perspective.

ABOUT LUND UNIVERSITY

Lund University was founded in 1666 and is repeatedly ranked among the world's top 100 universities. The University has around 44 000 students and more than 8 000 staff based in Lund, Helsingborg and Malmö. We are united in our efforts to understand, explain and improve our world and the human condition.

Lund is considered one of the most popular study locations in Sweden. The University offers one of the broadest ranges of programmes and courses in Scandinavia, based on cross-disciplinary and cutting-edge research. The unique disciplinary range encourages boundary-crossing collaborations both within academia and with wider society, creating great conditions for scientific breakthroughs and innovations. The University has a distinct international profile, with partner universities in almost 70 countries.

Lund University has an annual turnover of more than EUR 880 million, of which two-thirds go to research in our nine faculties, enabling us to offer one of the strongest and broadest ranges of research in Scandinavia.

The establishment of the world-leading facilities MAX IV and European Spallation Source (ESS) will have a major impact on future scientific and industrial development in both materials science and life science. MAX IV is the leading synchrotron radiation facility in the world while ESS will feature the world's most powerful neutron source when it starts producing neutrons in 2023. These facilities together with the new University campus in Science Village will constitute a science complex and an international hub for research, education and innovation in which Lund University plays a central role.
